SAPONIFIER,
OR—
CONCENTRATED LYE,
THE READY FAMILY
SOAP MAKER.

An indispensable article in every family, whereby, with their ordinary kitchen grease combined with the Saponifier, they can make all the soap they use—hard, soft, or fancy. It will make hard water soft, and will clean Type perfection—nothing equals it for cleaning and scouring.
Put up in a light iron box of 1 lb. each, which will make, with 4 or 5 lbs. common grease, from 15 to 25 gallons elegant soft soap, or 8 to 10 lbs. hard.

It has been several years since this invaluable article was first introduced to the Public, and the estimation in which it is held, wherever known and tried, and the immense demand for it from all quarters, are conclusive proofs of its real merits and value as a family article.

Beware of Imitations!
The success of our article, like that of all dis-cussive of true merit and value, has induced unprincipled parties to imitate it. We therefore caution the public against worthless counterfeits, and to take none but the genuine, original and patented article, Manufactured only by the Pennsylvania Salt Manufacturing Company, of East Tazewell, Allegheny Co., Pa. Office and Depot, No. 296 Penn St., above the Canal bridge, Pittsburgh, Penna. Who also manufacture of standard quality.

Premiums granted to regular customers.

The Aetna Company has advantages through its extended system of Agencies, established along every inland route, whereby it exercises due care over property in transit, and in case of damage, that prompt attention and superior equipment gives to its customers the least trouble, expense or loss, and affords a speedy means of recovery and prompt forwarding of damaged property.

LIFE INSURANCE
COMPANY
OF SAINT LOUIS.
Office, north-east corner Second and Pine streets, basement Bottom's Savings Institution, St.
Louis.

WHAT IS LIFE INSURANCE?—1. It is the exercise of prudence, of benevolence. 2. It secures independence, domestic happiness to the widow and orphan. 3. It is more efficacious in its operation as regards the moral and domestic comfort of the people, and in its tendency to reduce taxation, by its reduction of pauperism, and possibly of crime, than the legislation of our wisest statesmen; and, if universally adopted, would be a national blessing. 4. It is a means of every class, and in every station of life, the means to avoid much future misery to their families, and to render them independent of public or private charity.

While it is the manifest and imperative duty of every parent, during his life-time, to embrace all the honest means of supporting and advancing the interests of his offspring, so it is equally his duty to avoid leaving them at his death to grope their way in helpless poverty through an uncharitable world; and equally apparent is the duty of every husband to provide, in case of his death, for the surviving widow. To effect all which Life Insurance Companies have been formed, which enable every husband and parent, by the payment of a small sum, either annually or quarterly, to provide for his widow and fatherless children.

From Baltimore.
BALTIMORE, Nov. 28.—Gov. Hicks repplies to a petition for a special session of the Legislature, declining to convene. He is unwilling to place Maryland in a position of appearing to join in any treasonable designs against the Union, whilst he is ready to go as far as any man in demanding the rights of the South in the Union.

From Leavenworth.
LEAVENWORTH, Nov. 28.—Acting Governor Beebe has issued a proclamation in relation to the affairs in Southern Kansas calling on Montgomery and his band to disband and return to obedience of the constituted authorities. He says peaceable citizens shall receive protection, and all offenders receive due punishment.

Nothing new from the scene of difficulties.
River navigation entirely suspended.

A Diversity of Gifts.—A Southern paper says "the State Convention in South Carolina is called for the purpose of Seceding—that of Georgia for Deliberating—and those of Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana for Consulting."

Capt. Derby is a very fierce patriot, indeed, as we may judge from a remark that he once made: "I would rather be hung in South Carolina," said he, "than die a natural death in any other State."

From Fort Smith—St. Louisans Scalded
by the Camanches.
FORT SMITH, Nov. 28.—The Overland Mail, from San Francisco, Nov. 9th, passed here this morning at eight o'clock. The passengers state that two men, formerly of St. Louis, named Alfred Paringot and Samuel McNeal, employees of the Overland Mail Company, were scalded by the Cam-anche Indians five miles east of the Riley Station, on the 22nd inst. No interruption, however, happened to the Overland Stage or its passengers.

If our good friends of the Cotton States, instead of spending hundreds of thousands of dollars to place themselves in a position for defence against imaginary evils and foes, would employ John Bell, Stephen A. Douglas, Mr. Memminger, of South Carolina, and Mr. Brady, of New York, representing the Southwest, Northwest, South, and east of the Union, to carry the recent Chicago rescue case to the Supreme Court, they would be putting their money to a profitable end. Here is a case involving the right to protection of slave property in Nebraska Territory, the very occasion required for carrying the question up to the court of last resort, where we can have an authoritative interpretation of what the Constitution guarantees.—[Lou.
Journal.]

Hon. John M. Botts writes from Richmond that the letters published in regard to the feeling and condition of things in Virginia are fabulous and unfounded to the last degree. There is nothing in the world going on there relative to raising, arming, and drilling troops, that would not have occurred if there had been no election at all—even to the encampment and parade for the purpose of getting up an "esprit de corps," has broken up, and all returned to their homes and daily avocations—yet it is announced among a thousand-and-one other stories, equally as unfounded, that it was a preparation for war, growing out of the election of Lincoln. Virginia is sound to the core on the Union question, and has no idea of being hitched to, or dragged into any movement that looks like one of disunion.
—[Lou. Journal.]

Artemus Ward Visits Brigham Young.

It is now going on (2) years as I very well remember, since I crossed the Plains for California, the Brite land of Jold.— While crossing the Plains all so bold, I fell in with some noble red men of the forest (N. B. This is rote Sarcastical, Ijins is Pizin, whar ever found.) which they Sed I was their Brother, & wanted for to smoke the Calomet of Peace with me. They then stole my jerki beef, blankets, elsettery, skapt my orgin grinder, & Scooted with a Wild Hoop. Durin the Cheaf's techn speech, he speech, he sed he shoed meet me in the Happy Huntin Grounds. If he duz, there will be a fite. But enuff of this ere. Reven Noose Muttons, as our skoolmaster, who has got Talent into him, cus-sycally observes.

I arrive in Salt Lake in deo time. At Camp Scott there was a lot of U. S. sojers, hostensibly sent out there to smash the mormons, but really to eat vittles & play poker & other bitul but somewhat onser-tin games. I got acquainted with sum of the officers. They loakt putty scrumpshus in their Blo coats with brass buttins onto us, & were very talented drinkers; but, so far as fite is concerned, Ide willingly put my wax tiggers agin the hull party.

My desire was to exhibit my grate show in Salt Lake City, so I called on Brigham Young, the great mogul among the mormons, and asked his permishun to pick my tent and onful my banner to the jentle breezis. He loakt at me in a austere manner for a few minits & sed:
"Do you believe in Solomon, Saint Paul, the immaculateness of the Mormon Church and the Latter Day Revelashuns?"

Sed, I, I'm on it! I make it a pint to get along psonat, the I didn't know what under the Son the old feller was drivin at.
He sed I mite show.

"You air a married man, Mister Yung, I believe?" sed I, preparin to rite him sum free parsis.

"I've eighty wives, Mister Ward. I serntly am married."

"How do you like it as far as you hev got?" sed I.

He sed 'middlin, an axed me if I wouldn't like to see his famerly, to which I replied that I wouldnt mind minglin with the fair Seck & Baskin in the winnin smiles of his interestin wives. He accordingly tuk me to his Seacure. The house is powerful big & in a exceedin large room was his wives and children, which lars was squawkin and hollerin enuff to take the roof rite off the house. The wimmen was of all sizes and ages. Sum was pretty and some was plane—sum was hettly and some was on the Wayne—which is verses, the sich was not my intensions, as I don't 'prove of puttin verses in Prose ritsers, though of oecasshun requires it I can jerk a Poem ekal to any of them Atlantic Muntly fellers.

"My wives, Mister Ward," said Yung.
"Your sarvant, marme," as I sot down upon a cheer which a red-headed female brawl me.

"Besides these wives you see here, Mister Ward," sed Yung, "I have eighty more in varris parts of this consekrate land which are Sealed to me."

"Which?" sed I, gettin up & starsein at him.

"Sealed, sir, Sealed."

"Where bows?" sed I.

"I sed sir, that they were Sealed! He spoke in a tragedy voice.

"Will they probly continue loag on in that stille to any great extert, sir?" I axed.

"Sir," sed he turnin as red as a biled beet, "don't you know that the rules of our Church is that I, the Profit may hev as meny wives as I want?"

"Jes so," I sed. "You air old pie, ain't you?"

"Them as is Sealed to me—that is to say, be mine when I want em—air at present my sperretuol wives," said Mister Yung.

"Long may they wave!" sed I, secin I shood git into a scrape ef I didn't look out.

In a privit conversashun with Brigham I lerned the followin fax: It takes him six weeks to kiss his wives. He do it only once a yere & sed it is wuss nor cleanin house. He don't pretend to know his children, there is so many of em, tho they all know him. "He sez about every child he meets calls him Par, & he takes it for grantid it is so. His wives air very expensy.

They allers want suthin & ef he don't buy it for um they set the house in an uproar.— He sez he dont hev a minits pence. His wives fie among themselves so much that he has bilt a fite room for three speshul benefit & when too of um git into a row he has um turned loose into that place, whare the dispoit is settled accordin the rules of the London prize ring. Sumtimes they aboos hussell individoolly. They hev puld the most of his hair out at the roots and he wares meny a horrible scar upon his body, inflicted with hap-handles, broom-sticks and sich. Oecasshunly they git mad and scold him with bilin hot water. When he got any waze cranky thay'd shut him up in a dark closet, previously whippin him after the stile of muthers when thare orfsprings git onruly. Sumtimes when he went in swimmin thay'd go to the banks of the Lake & steal all his close, thereby compelling him to sneek home by a sircotious rowt, dreset in the Skanderous stile of the Greek Slaiv. "I find that the keers of a married life way hev unto me," sed the Profit, "and sumtimes I wish Ide remained singel." I left the Profit and startid for the tavern whare I put up to. On my way I was overtuk by a lurgo krowd of Mormons, which they surrounded me & statid that they was goin into the Show tree.

"Wall," sed I, ef I find and individool who is going round lettin folks into his show free, Ide let you know."

"We've had a Revelashun biddin us go into A. Wards Show without payin nothin," they showid.

"Yes," hollerd a lot of female Mormonesses, ceasin me by the cole tales & swinging me round very rapid, "were all goin in free! So sez the Revelashun!"

What's Old Revelashun got to do with my show?" sed I, gettin putty filey.—
"Tell Mister Revelashun," sed I, drawin myself up to my full hite and lookin round upon the orney 'krowd with a proud & defiant mien, "tell Mister Revelashun to mind his bizness subject to the Konstitution of the United States!"

"Oh now let us in, that's a sweet man," sed several females, puttin thare arms round me in luvyn stile. "Becum I of us.
Becum a preest, & hev wives Sealed to you."

"Not a Seall!" sed I, starting back in hor-or at the idee.

"Oh stay, Sir, stay, said a tawl, gawnt female, ore whose hed 37 summaris must hev parsd, 'stay, & ide be your Jentle Gazelle."

"Not ef I know it, you won't," sed I.— "Awa you skanderus femal, aw! Go & be a Nunnyrly! That's what I sed, jes so."

"I sed a fat chunky female, who must hev wade more than too hundred lb., 'I will be your sweet gidin Star!"

Sed I, "Ile bet two dollars and a half you won't." Whar ear I may Rome Ide still be too 2 thes oh Betsy Jane! [N. B.— Betsy Jane is my wife's Sis name.]

"Willist thou not tarry here in the Prom-ist Land!" sed several of the miserable crit-ters.

"He see you all essentially caused before I whittist!" as mad as I cood be at the infernal noncens. I girded up my Liens & fled the Seen. I packt up my duds & left Salt Lake, which is a 2nd Sodders Gomorer, inhabited by as theavin & unprincipuld a set of rethies as ever drew breath in eny spot on the globe.

A. WARD.
"Mother's Dead"—A touching Incident.

An incident occurred at the city prison some time since that brought tears to the eyes of every one who witnessed it. Within the barred doors was a man confined on a charge of maltreating his family. One of his children, a bright eyed intelligent little fellow of eight years, applied at the prison for permission to see his father.— The request was granted, and the child conducted to his parent. The man, who is well advanced in years, as the child entered the place where corruption and vice seem to bubble from the very floor and hidiously start forth in spectral gloom from the wall, stood with his back towards the door.
The little fellow ran up to him, and catching him by the hand and faintly muttered "Father!" which caused the degraded and unnatural parent to turn suddenly around and without returning the recognition, he rudely shoved the boy away. "Father," said the lad, almost choking with grief, "Father, Mother is dead!" Like shot those words went home to the heart of that parent. The deeds that had marked his career through a long period of years started forth his imagination—his ordelty, neglect, indifference, all were pictured in that sentence. For a second he stood motionless and then falling upon his knees clasped the boy to his bosom and wept bitterly. There and then a prayer went up that must have found its way to heaven. On bonded knees he made a solemn promise never again to touch intoxicating liquors, and we doubt not the solemn vow will be kept.—
